

Contact: Doug Wood, 303.443.7454
dwood@gracedesign.com

For Immediate Release

Grace Design Appoints new UK Distributor

Boulder, Colorado (June, 2009) – Grace Design announced today that it has signed on Sound-Link Marketing as its new full line distributor for the UK professional audio markets.

Trading since 1992, Sound-Link Marketing was established to provide consulting, and for the supply of premium grade studio equipment to the professional audio business. In the pursuit of top quality clean sound, Sound-Link Marketing has become a specialist supplier of world class microphones for sound acquisition, reference loudspeakers, and room correction technology to create the most accurate and critical monitoring environments.

Founder and owner Roger Clemo began his audio career in 1975 when he joined Rupert Neve and Co. He has also held posts as Director of UK Sales for Martinsound Inc., and as General Manager for the UK based Harris Studio Products Europe.

Regarding the new relationship with Grace, Roger Clemo noted “Both the microphone preamps and the reference monitoring products from Grace Design are a perfect fit in our product portfolio. Sound-Link specializes exclusively in the supply of best in class equipment for acquisition of sound and critical professional monitoring systems, and we’ve been searching for products that will truly complement our range of Gefell microphones, Geithain reference monitors and Trinnov room correction products. We are delighted to say that Grace Design more than meets our exacting requirements.”

Grace Design VP of Sales and Marketing, Doug Wood, added “We’re thrilled that Roger has joined the Grace family as our distribution partner for the UK. As someone who has been fully engaged in professional audio for many years, he brings a unique and deep understanding of the requirements of audio professionals in the markets that his company serves. His clear commitment to serving his customers with best in class products and support mirrors the way we conduct our business. We believe this new business relationship will be an outstanding fit for both of our companies, and most importantly, our customers in the UK.”

Please visit www.gracedesign.com and www.sound-link.co.uk for more information.

About Grace Design

Grace Design was established in 1994 and is a leading manufacturer of world-class hardware for the professional audio industry. Grace Design's mission is to provide audio professionals with exceptionally engineered and built products coupled with best-in-class customer service. The product line currently consists of the m801, m802, m802RCU, m201, m101, Lunatec V3 microphone preamps, the m902 and m902B reference headphone amplifiers and the m904, m904B and m906 reference monitoring systems. The company's customers include audio professionals in the music, film, television, live sound, education and corporate markets.